Spelling bee

1

Listen and chant.

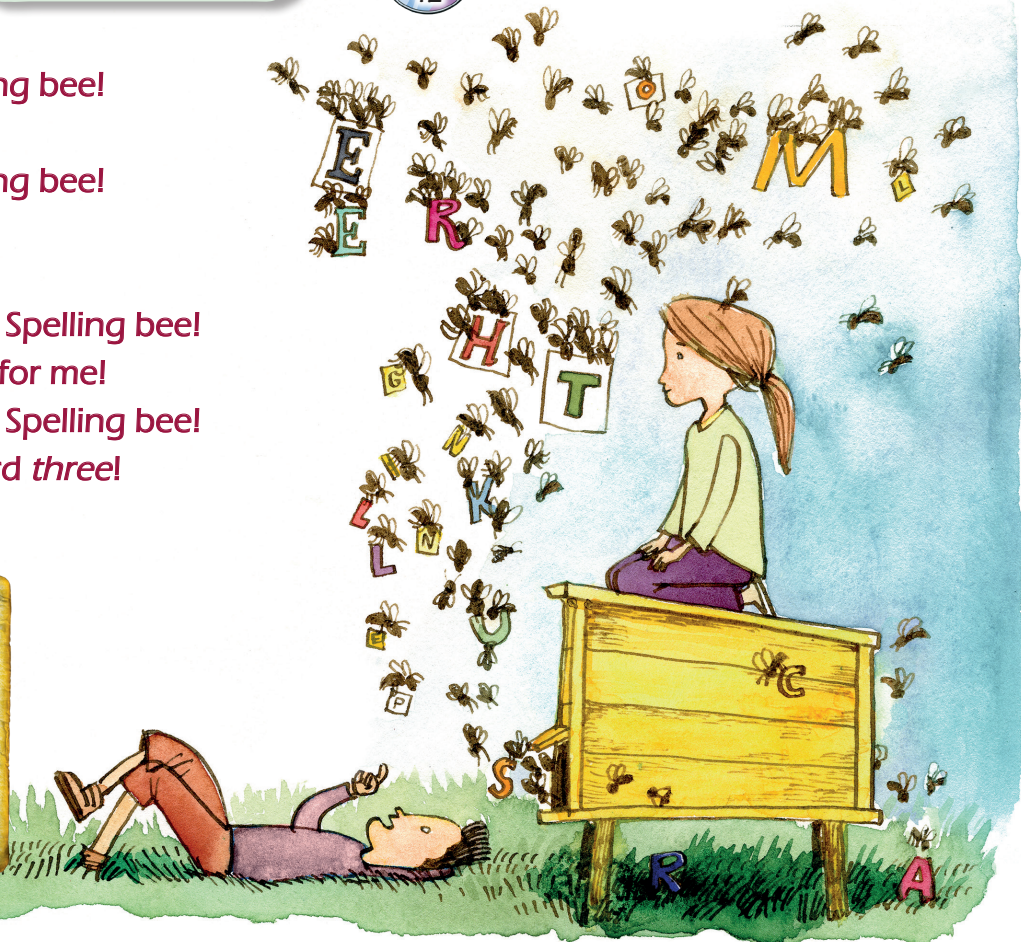

Spelling bee! Spelling bee!
Let's have fun!
Spelling bee! Spelling bee!
Let's have fun!

Spelling bee! Spelling bee!
Spell a word for me!
Spelling bee! Spelling bee!
Spell the word three!
T-H-R-E-E

Culture flash

Spelling bee is a competition where children spell words. The first spelling bee took place in 1925 in the United States. Today spelling bees are popular in many countries.

2

Practise in pairs. Look at the picture on page 8. Student A spells a word, Student B points to the thing and says the word.

B-E-A-C-H

3

Practise in pairs.

Spell the word today for me.

It's T-O-D-A-Y.

4 Listen and read the texts. Which of the sentences is true?

- 1 Everybody is present.
- 2 Everybody is on Mr Hobson's list.
- 3 Nobody is late.

Good morning! I'm Alan Hobson, your new English teacher. Please put your bags down and stop talking. Everybody ready? When I call your name say "Here," and add something about yourself. Try to think of things the other students don't know yet. Let's get started.

- Max Cooper.
- Here. We moved house last summer.
- Alice Green.
- Here. My mum bought really funny sports socks for me yesterday.
- Ellie Hall.
- Here. I took up a new hobby.
- James Harris.
- Here. I won a prize in a raffle last Friday.
- Lucas King.
- He's absent. He's in hospital.
- Adele Parker.
- Here. My dog had puppies two days ago.
- Poppy Robinson.
- Here. I saw a bat on Saturday night.
- Ella White.
- Here. I went on a family trip last weekend.

8 Match the pictures with the texts.

- 1 This picture shows one of the ravens of the Tower of London.
- 2 Storks don't live in Britain. You can see lots of them in Estonia.
- 3 The barn swallow is the national bird of Estonia.
- 4 The robin is a popular garden bird in Britain. It is often on Christmas cards.

9

Read the texts.

Mõlemas tekstis on üks sõna, mis on vahetusse läinud. Leia need üles.

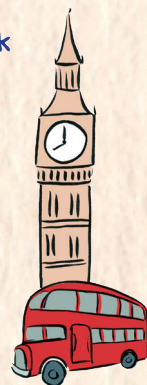

Hi Bess,

This picture shows the clock tower of the Houses of Parliament. Everybody knows it as Big Ben.

But Big Ben is not the name of the tower.

It's the name of a large bell in the clock tower. Did you know that? Just now Mum is queuing for a boat trip to the Tower of London. I can't wait to say hello to the storks.

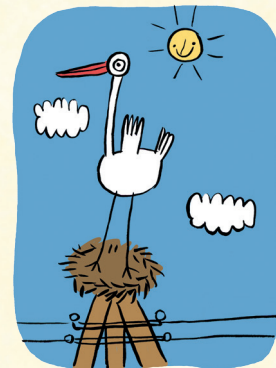

Love, Liz

Hi Granny,

Yesterday we made a trip to South Estonia. The towns and villages were so quiet there. We saw lots of ravens in the fields. They build their nests high up on top of poles or old chimneys. We don't have them in Britain, do we? This is what their nests are like. I hope we can spot an elk before we leave. See you in a week.

Listen and chant.

How much is a ticket?
How much is the fee?
How much is a boat trip?
Is the entrance free?

How much is this guide book?
How much is the tour?
How much is a tourist map?
Before you go, make sure.

2 Listen and read.

- 1 A: Excuse me. When does the tour start?
B: It's every full hour.
A: And how much is a ticket, please?
B: It's free for students.
- 2 A: Excuse me, how much is a map?
B: It's 20p. But if you take the tour, it's free.
A: And how much is the tour, please?
B: It's £8.

3 Practise in pairs. Make up your own dialogues.

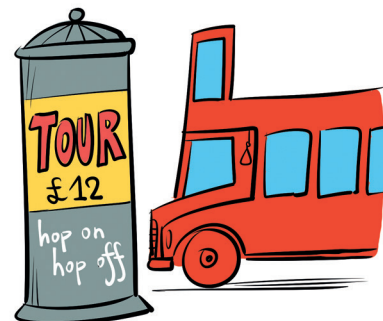

the entrance to the castle

the fee for the drama club

the fee for the tour

Excuse me, how much is ... ?

It's £4.

4

Read the email. Match the parts of sentences.

1 FAO Schwarz is ...

a a huge keyboard.

2 Sally bought ...

b a massive toy shop.

3 Sally played music on ...

c a new pencil case.

Hi Dad,

How's your evening? A bit lonely? I hope our letter cheers you up.

Today we visited FAO Schwarz. This is the oldest toy store in America. It first opened in 1862 and it's massive. It first sold dolls and wooden soldiers only. Now it's like a huge fairyland with millions of toys. Don't worry, Dad, we spent very little. I just got a pencil case with an eagle on it. We also bought a beanbag toy for Julia. It's a secret! Don't tell her.

There was a big electronic keyboard on the floor at FAO Schwarz. I toe tapped an easy tune on it. It was fun. There were different mini-stores, like the Barbie store and the Uglydoll store. Before we leave, I want to go back and buy some sweets for my friends. And I definitely want to take a photo with the living toy soldiers at the entrance.

Tomorrow we're going to go to Central Park. It's four kilometres long and almost one kilometre wide. The guide book says that it's a great place to walk and be with friends. I want to find the statues of Alice in Wonderland and Hans Christian Andersen at the Toy Boat Lake. Maybe we can take a pedicab tour if it's not too expensive.

On Thursday we're going to visit the tallest building in the United States – the One World Trade Centre. It's 541 metres high. It's a bit scary even to look at. I don't know if I can make it.

That's all from me. Mum is going to write about the rest of the day.

Love,

Sally

3 a Learn. First listen and repeat the words.

People who love animals make new friends easily.
It's even easier if both of you have a pet. The best part is, you'll always have something to talk about. Here is some good advice on how to start talking with a dog owner.

'kɒli

Is your dog a boy or a girl?

He's / She's so beautiful!

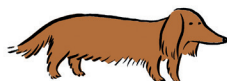

Isn't he / she gorgeous!

What's his / her name?

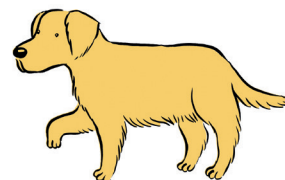

How old is he / she?

What breed is he / she?

Does he / she need much exercise?

'dæksnd

rɪ'tri:və

'mʌŋgrəl

collie
dachshund
mongrel retriever

Has he / she been to any shows?

Has he / she won any prizes?

Can I pat him / her?

Good girl / boy!

b Work in pairs. Act out a dialogue between two dog owners in the park.
