Hey there!

You won't believe me! A Viking boy appeared in our garden a few minutes ago. I think he's come over by time-travelling. He looks really depressed. Please don't rush over. He's too scared to meet anybody else. I'll take him some food. By the way, he showed me a comb. I think it had his name in runes on it. I took a photo of it.

15 Feb 5.17 p.m.

He's still there. It's strange, but we can talk to each other. It means I understand what he's saying in his language and he understands what I'm saying. I took a bottle of Coke out for him. He didn't drink it. He probably wants water. I hope I can post a selfie with him in a few minutes.
